

Approaches to Inequalities: whose business is it?

A one day conference: Wednesday 20th September 2017

Call for papers – Doctoral Stream

This is the third Approaches to Inequalities conference and we are delighted to announce that, following the success of last year's doctoral stream, Professor Chantal Davies from Chester University and Visiting Professor in Law at the University of Northampton, has kindly agreed to Chair this year's doctoral stream.

Therefore we welcome proposals for papers relating to the conference theme from Doctoral students at all stages of their PhD. This will be a supportive environment to present papers relating to your PhD research and there will be an opportunity to receive feedback and comments from both Professor Davies, other students and conference delegates.

We hope contributors get a sense of just how broad, varied and inclusive we hope our 2017 conference will be, whilst retaining a common thread or flavour and we look forward to receiving contributions.

Proposals for papers should be around 500 words. Proposals should be sent to: The Approaches to Inequalities Research Group (AIRgroup@Northampton.ac.uk) by midnight on 24th April 2017.

A general call for papers has also been released and details can be found here as well as the link to the booking pages: <http://www.northampton.ac.uk/events/approaches-to-inequalities-whose-business-it-is-calls-for-papers/>
