

International Association For Court Administration

Call for papers

The International Journal for Court Administration is an on-line journal which focuses on contemporary court administration and management. It provides a platform for the professional exchange of knowledge, experience and research in those areas for a diverse audience of practitioners and academics.

Its scope is international, and the editors welcome submissions from court officials, judges, justice ministry officials, academics and others whose professional, research projects, and interests lie in the practical aspects of the effective administration of justice. IJCA is an open access journal, and its articles are subjected to a double-blind peer review procedure. Please contact the editors if you are not sure whether your research falls into these categories.

Why submit to International Journal for Court Administration?

1- No submission fees & No publication fees.

2- The Journal publishes only high-quality papers (both academic and professional). The journal is double-blind peer reviewed and indexed in all major databases

Broad areas of research that are relevant to judicial administration are:

- Court organization – structure, roles, governance, independence, accountability;
- Court personnel – selection, appointment, management, training & education, ethics;
- Court management – planning, budgeting & finance, performance measurement;
- Court processes – workload allocation, case-flow management, alternative dispute resolution;
- Courts and society – court communication, access to justice, public trust & confidence, juries, lay judges, problem-solving approaches;
- Courts and technology – application, implications, evaluation.

To submit your paper online, please follow this link: <https://www.iacajournal.org/about/submissions/>

For first time authors, please register first.