

CURRENT ISSUES IN JUDICIAL DIVERSITY

11 April 2019, 2-6pm

Queen Mary University of London, Room 3.1, Lincoln's Inn Fields
Campus, 67 Lincoln's Inn Fields

Featuring papers by emerging scholars:

- 'Not Just Men in Skirts: Women Judges and the Gender Order in the High Court of Australia', Kcasey McLoughlin (University of Newcastle, Australia)
- 'Who Are Our Judges and Why Does It Matter?', Lewis Graham (University of Cambridge)

Followed by a roundtable discussion of current research on the judiciary and judicial diversity.

The event is free, but registration via Eventbrite is essential: <https://bit.ly/2C0ki6r>

Hosted by Centre for Research on Law, Equality and Diversity (LEAD) (QM), Centre for Sexuality, Race and Gender Justice (SeRGJ) (Kent) and the Judicial Diversity Initiative
