

Theme:

The Queen Mary Law Journal welcomes original articles, reflections and creative submissions that engage with the theme of our next issue: ‘Fundamental Rights in the Digital Age’

The Editorial Board welcomes interdisciplinary approaches towards the theme that could expand on one or more subject matter areas of the fundamental rights discourse in its many contexts (historical, cultural, technological, economic, transnational, global). For example, papers may address cross-cutting issues or themes, including but not limited to:

- Digitisation of Justice
- Gendered Violence in Digital Spaces
- Judicial Globalisation
- Privacy and Data Protection
- Privatisation of Fundamental Rights Enforcement
- Access to Internet as a Fundamental Right
- The Use of AI in Courts

Submission:

The Editorial Board will be accepting submissions for QMLJ 2022 Volume 1 on qmlj-submissions@qmul.ac.uk until 20 November, 2021. For full submission instructions, please see our Guidance for Contributors. If you are thinking of making a creative submission, please email our editors on qmlj-submissions@qmul.ac.uk for further guidance.

The submissions are subject to double-blind peer review by the Editorial Board of the Queen Mary Law Journal.
