

The Case for a Written Constitution

Renowned philosopher Professor AC Grayling develops a compelling case for a written constitution and the right of every citizen to good government, arguing that the parliamentary system of checks and balances on executive power has been fatally compromised.

Download the podcast of his FLJS lecture to hear his proposals for reform of First-Past-the-Post elections and a new system of party discipline that would free MPs to act on their conscience and the will of those they represent.

Download the Podcast

15 Steps to Improved Patient Safety of Medical Advances

What do we want from medical technology, and how can we get it?

Following the Theranos scandal that saw the founder of the blood testing company Elizabeth Holmes jailed for fraud, we take another look at how regulation of medical tech can improve patient safety and care.

Read the 15 recommendations to improve patient safety without stifling innovation.

An Informed Dialogue Supporting Safe Innovation in Medical Technology

Read the Policy Brief

Christopher Hodges & Sonia MacLeod

Killing by Drones

December's 2021 Reith Lectures reopened the public debate on the perils and promise of artificial intelligence.

In response to Prof Russell's second lecture on the use of Artificial Intelligence in Warfare, we revisit the findings of an investigation into the legality of Killing by Drones that was presented in Parliament to the All-Party Parliamentary Group on Drones.

Killing by Drones: Legality under International Law

Rory O. Millson & David A. Herman, NYC Bar Association

Read the Policy Brief

The Foundation for Law, Justice and Society | 01865 284433 | info@fljs.org | www.fljs.org

STAY CONNECTED

