

IVR 2*24

International Association for Philosophy of Law and Social Philosophy

Call for Papers

Special Workshop Proposals and Individual Paper Proposals

The 31st IVR Congress (The 31st World Congress of the International Association for Philosophy of Law and Social Philosophy), which is going to be held on July 7(Sun)–12(Fri), 2024, in Seoul, Republic of Korea, invites scholars to submit proposals for special workshops and individual papers.

We encourage organizers of a special workshop to write a proposal dealing with a general topic related to the rule of law, justice, and the future of democracy. Scholars who wish to submit an individual paper are also invited to submit proposals. The IVR 2024 organizing committee will give its best attention to the review and ask for your kind attention and participation. We are currently accepting proposals, and the deadline for both special workshop and individual paper proposals is January 31, 2024.

Please visit <https://ivr2024.org/> for further information.

Please click here for the submission of the special workshop proposal, here for the individual paper proposal, and here for registration.

Event Details

Date: July 7(Sun)–12(Fri), 2024

Venue: Soongsil University, Seoul, Republic of Korea

Abstract Submission Deadline: January 31(Wed), 2024

Proposal Submission Guidelines

There is a 750-word limit for a special workshop proposal and a 300-word limit for an individual paper proposal.

Publication

Carefully selected papers will have the opportunity to be published.

※ We hope that many of you will participate.

IVR 2024 Organizing Committee

