

Roundtable on Forced Scam Labour and Human Trafficking (online)
9 July 2024
11:00-14:00 (British time)

We invite you to take part in the Plenary Session at our Roundtable on 9 July 2024.

This Roundtable explores the issue of human trafficking-fuelled online fraud, which is active in South East Asia, and expanding to other regions of the world.

The work invested by many international stakeholders to combat this trend continues to shed further light on its deepening roots, well entrenched in the South East Asian region. In this framework, and in the presence of INTERPOL and with the participation of IJM (International Justice Mission) and HRC (Humanity Research Consultancy), this Roundtable looks at the history and evolution of this phenomenon, the response of civil society, and looks at the areas where solutions are needed.

The Plenary Session, which follows talks by our panellists, will give stakeholders and interested parties the opportunity to flag areas where solutions are needed, discuss solutions and identify research questions.

To register, please complete the form at: <https://forms.office.com/e/B0GfHbeuVJ>
