

SAVE THE DATE!

Nottingham Law School

Centre for Advocacy

Third International Advocacy Conference

Friday, 28 June 2019

Advocacy and Vulnerable Witnesses:

20 Years on from the Youth Justice and Criminal Evidence Act 1999

Nottingham Law School will host the third "International Advocacy Conference" on 28 June 2019. The Conference will bring together advocates, judges and academics from different jurisdictions and across disciplines to discuss and share best practice in the training of advocates.

Marking the 20th anniversary of the Youth Justice and Criminal Evidence Act 1999, the aim of the Conference is to explore the legacy of the 1999 Act, its impacts and its future. Specific regard will be had to vulnerable witnesses and the provision of "special measures" to ensure effective participation of witnesses and the provision of best evidence.

Contact Mark Thomas, Co-Director of the Centre for Advocacy, for more details (Mark.Thomas@NTU.ac.uk)